Original Owners and/or Builders: The Schilling family owned the farm for over a century. We have farmed the land since 1972 when Mr. Schilling retired from farming. Helen Salzman purchased the farm in approximately 1999 when Mr. Schilling passed away.

Age of Barn: 1912 – built by Joseph and Charles Schilling

Original Use of Purpose of Structure: Housing horses and cattle

Construction Information: Yellow pine on the south end; Douglas fir on the east, west and north side; concrete. Influenced by German architecture.

History of Barn and/or Farm: Over the years, the barn has housed work horses, beef cattle, dairy cattle and a chicken egg laying operation. During the sixties, the barn was used for storing soybeans and corn.
