

If the choice is made to fertilize bulbs in the spring, apply fertilizer after the foliage begins to emerge. Use a bulb fertilizer that contains nitrogen, and potash as well as phosphorous. Spread the fertilizer around the plants and water into the soil. After the initial spring feeding, apply half the label amount of fertilizer every month until the foliage begins to turn yellow.